

Prince Henry's Grammar School

PROUD OF THE PAST –
PREPARED FOR THE FUTURE

WELCOME FROM THE HEADTEACHER

Prince Henry's has a well-deserved reputation for high standards and excellence dating back to its Royal Charter of 1607 when the core values of hard work, discipline, high achievement and 'virtue' were first established. As a popular and highly successful secondary school with over 1400 students, we continue to deliver outstanding education to young people. Such high standards really matter to me – in both the academic and the broadest sense. This is why a visit to our school reveals exemplary standards of student dress, behaviour, learning and achievement – evident each and every day.

At Prince Henry's, we prepare students of all abilities for success, investing time to develop the creativity, confidence, resilience and ICT skills of all members of our community. We value each and every one of our students and they are at the very centre of all that we do. By recognising their unique needs and aspirations, ensuring equality of opportunity and a caring environment, all our students are able to flourish and achieve their best. This is why we are consistently one of the very top performing schools in Leeds and one of the "Top 100" best performing non-selective secondary schools across the country.

The governors and staff at Prince Henry's are committed to providing our students with an education that supports not only their academic achievement, but also their personal development and well-being. The very wide range of enrichment activities available is evidence of this. We also use our Language College specialism to ensure all members of the school community appreciate the richness and diversity of the world and have a clear understanding of their rights and responsibilities as citizens of the global community.

I sincerely hope you will want to experience our vibrant school for yourself and I look forward to your visit to Prince Henry's Grammar School Specialist Language College.

Janet Sheriff
Headteacher

"The leadership and management are outstanding. The school is exceptionally well led. The Headteacher promotes high aspirations for students and adopts a relentless approach to ensuring they are enabled to achieve of their best."

Ofsted

“I succeeded due to a wonderful, supportive staff team. I am forever indebted to the school. Prince Henry’s was my catapult.”

Christopher Bevan, ex student

“Prince Henry’s is a school where you can be yourself, flourish and achieve.”

Her Majesty’s Inspector of Schools

“The attention given to promoting students’ spiritual, moral, social and cultural development is of a high order, which helps them develop into the impressively mature, reflective, sensitive young people that they become.” Ofsted

EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING AND LEARNING

Central to the success of Prince Henry's is excellent teaching and learning. Our highly qualified and talented staff deliver inspiring lessons, designed to challenge students so that they actively engage in and take responsibility for their own learning. The use of iPads and other technology enhances traditional methods of teaching, and adds value to the learning and education of students. We are ambitious to give students at Prince Henry's Grammar School every advantage and to maximise their opportunities to succeed in the extremely competitive 21st century society. As a result, external examination results show that our students make academic progress significantly above the national average, both at GCSE and A level.

"We have been impressed by the teaching staff at Prince Henry's - they have been inspirational. We owe them a great deal of thanks for providing a wonderful learning environment for our two sons."

Parents of Year 11 and Year 13 students

"Virtually all groups of students attain higher standards than similar groups nationally and achieve well. At age 16, students' attainment is significantly above the national average in most subjects, including the core subjects of English, mathematics and science." Ofsted

“In all lessons, very positive relationships and a serious work ethic are evident. Students invariably are keen to succeed, try their hardest and do as they are asked.”

Ofsted

Resilient Students With A Positive Attitude to Learning

During all lessons and the many extension and enrichment activities, staff nurture the independent learning skills and resilience that are essential for lifelong learning and success in our relentlessly changing world. In all subjects, students are given regular feedback so that they are able to monitor and build on their progress towards personalised and challenging expectations. This approach to teaching and learning fosters positive attitudes to learning amongst our students, which further supports excellent achievement in all that they do.

“Students attend very regularly. Attendance is above the national average and is improving for all groups of students.” Ofsted

A RICH CURRICULUM

Students are provided with a rich and varied curriculum, designed to enable each individual to reach their full potential. Nearly all students opt to follow the broad and balanced English Baccalaureate curriculum at GCSE and student success in this is outstanding, regularly gaining national recognition and accolade for the school. Alongside the “EBacc”, students can select additional subjects that particularly interest them. Various ‘pathways’ – including vocational programmes and college-based options – are also available. An extensive range of extra-curricular activities including the Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme, sport, drama, music and many other areas complements the main curriculum.

The vast majority of our students who opt to continue their studies post-16 choose to do so at Prince Henry’s. In recent years, our excellent reputation, together with the wide range of courses on offer, has also attracted an increasing number of external students to our sixth form.

“The curriculum is largely academic which suits most students but alternative pathways, including some external provision, cater effectively for the full range of needs.” Ofsted

“A very wide range of enrichment and extra-curricular opportunities broaden students’ experiences and help them develop their specific interests and talents.” Ofsted

“The many opportunities the school has offered my child have really helped her develop as a person – from sporting through to musical and academic, they have made a real difference to her.”

Parent of Year 9 student

A Strong Sporting Tradition

Prince Henry's Grammar School has an excellent reputation for sporting excellence. All students take part in the traditional PE and sport activities and this is complemented by the opportunity some students have to participate in more unusual activities such as cheerleading, basketball and dance. Selected students represent the school in competitive sport activities, showing commitment to school netball, rugby, athletics, cricket or swimming teams and regularly achieving success at local, regional and national level.

Our “Excellence In Sport and Education Programme” (ESEP) provides a pathway in the sixth form for talented and aspiring sports men and women, supporting them to achieve the highest levels of academic success in conjunction with meeting the demands of their sport-specific training schedules.

OUTSTANDING BEHAVIOUR AND SAFETY

At Prince Henry's, we are committed to a school climate in which every student is able to be happy and achieve his or her best. Our high expectations are set within a caring and supportive framework, based on high standards of work and behaviour and respect for the individual.

Positive Discipline is central to the life of our school, and ensures that students aspire to the very highest standards. This system, underpinned by a consistent set of traditional values, rewards students for what they do well, whilst also providing a framework within which misdemeanours are challenged and sanctioned in a consistent manner.

“Students make a significant contribution to their successful learning by their outstanding behaviour and attitudes.”

Ofsted

“Students are very well cared for and a great deal of effort is put into meeting any particular needs. As a result, and helped by the very positive relationships, students feel very safe within the school.”

Ofsted

“Our daughter has had a wonderful Year 8 in so many ways, and is growing in confidence all the time. She is lucky to attend such an inclusive school.”

Parent of Year 8 student

“Prince Henry’s won’t just be a memory to us, it’s a place that has empowered us to become the people we are today... to achieve our dreams.”

Sophie Jeffery, ex student

Student Well-being... Student Leaders

High quality pastoral support, provided by a dedicated team of experienced and caring teaching and associate staff, enables individual needs to be met and allows young people at Prince Henry’s to flourish. In addition, our students influence what happens in their school – we listen carefully to what our young people say about their education at Prince Henry’s. The excellent relationships in the school mean that students have the confidence to share their views and feelings regularly. The Student Council (made up of representatives from every year group), together with a wide range of other leadership development opportunities, ensures that all students have the opportunity to develop their confidence, communication skills, team work and leadership.

“Students show great respect towards each other and to adults.”

LANGUAGE SPECIALISM AND GLOBAL CITIZENSHIP

Our students experience exceptional opportunities in terms of language learning and experiencing other cultures. At Prince Henry's, the Language Specialism is about much more than learning foreign languages, however. We help our young people to appreciate what makes the world such a rich and varied place. For example, in a typical year some 500 students participate in a foreign visit to countries such as France, Spain, Germany, Italy, China, South Africa and Russia. We also open our doors to visitors from around the world.

We are committed to equipping our students with an understanding of their rights and responsibilities as citizens of the global community.

Students explore global issues such as fairtrade, equality and diversity, human rights and conflict resolution through special Global Citizenship Days and specific projects, as well as through the regular curriculum.

“The strong emphasis on languages and related cultural issues fosters students’ global perspective.” Ofsted

“The school is an outstanding example of embedding equality and community cohesion throughout its life and work.”
